For several years now, the Saginaw Club has celebrated the birthday of Robert Burns, Scotland's favorite son. Also, known simply as the Bard, a Scottish poet and lyricist. He is widely regarded as the National Poet of Scotland and is celebrated worldwide. Around the world tributes to the life and works of Robert Burns are held through the ritual of the Burns Supper. No Burns Supper would be complete without the Haggis, the drink (normally whisky), the songs, the recitals, and, of course, the most important ingredient of all, the fun. Members of the club are encouraged to wear their kilt or any tartan, and reminisce on their Scottish heritage. All are welcome.
